Nike is the official sponsor of the University of Oklahoma softball program.

Winning is an attitude that permeates the entire University of Oklahoma athletics program. Championships and postseason play are synonymous with practically every Sooner sport.

Over the last 12 years, no OU program has accomplished more than the softball team. The architect - head coach Patty Gasso - needed just five years before she took her team to the pinnacle of the sport. And OU hasn't dropped from elite territory since. Gasso and company have created a tradition that rivals nearly any program in collegiate softball and it has only taken 12 years. During that span, OU has averaged nearly 50 wins a season and won - on average - 70 percent of its contests.

It's no wonder the Sooners have risen to national prominence so quickly.

THE ARCHITECT

The OU senior woman administrator at the time - Marita Hynes - took a major risk when she chose Patty Gasso to lead the softball program in 1995. Gasso was a successful junior college coach at Long Beach City College without any ties to the Midwest, let alone Oklahoma.

Gasso jumped at the opportunity and immediately began attracting top athletes from each coast and everywhere in between. Players like Kansas native Lisa Carey and California native Heather Scaglione were given the chance to shine in the Sooner spotlight and are perfect examples of players from different backgrounds who have become some of the biggest names in the sport.

DEFINING MOMENT

The program's defining moment came in its first trip to the Women's College World Series in 2000. The Sooners came away victorious. Since then, they have made appearances in five of the last six WCWS and have become one of the most recognizable teams in the sport.

POSTSEASON PRIDE

Five. 25-5.

The numbers tell the story of the Oklahoma softball program's dramatic rise into elite company.

The Sooners have made trips to the Women's College World Series in five of the last seven seasons. No other team east of Pac 10 country had ever been to five consecutive WCWS.

OU qualified for the national championship tournament by winning five consecutive NCAA Regional Championships. The Sooners have proven themselves on their home field and on opposite ends of the country.

During that run to five straight WCWS, no team has been more efficient in its efforts. Patty Gasso's troops have gone 25-5 in regionals over the last seven seasons, which includes a 19-game winning streak. Whether it's eliminating Texas and defeating USA's Cat Osterman or traveling to Florida or knocking off No. 1 Arizona on its home field, the Sooners have been dominant in the regional format.

Since current head coach Patty Gasso stepped onto campus in 1995, the Sooners have won two Big 12 Tournaments, five NCAA Regional Championships and qualified for five WCWS.

That is a run that is unparalleled by any program east of Arizona and one that can only be matched by a few out west.

2000 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

The University of Oklahoma earned its first-ever softball national championship by beating UCLA, 3-1, in front of a Women's College World Series record crowd of 8,049 at Don E. Porter Hall of Fame Stadium in Oklahoma City on May 29, 2000. The title was the first by a women's athletic program at Oklahoma. The Sooners finished the season with the best record in the country at 66-8.

Oklahoma, the third seed in the WCWS, got on the scoreboard in the third inning with a two-run home run from All-American first baseman Lisa Carey. It was the second homer in as many days for the junior as her solo shot versus Arizona in the semifinals lifted the Sooners to the title game.

Centerfielder Erin Evans, who knocked a single to left field for her second hit of the game, scored ahead of Carey. The shot was Carey's 20th of the year and tied the OU single-season record which was set in 1999 by Lynette Velazquez.

The inning continued when right fielder Andrea Davis singled to right field. Pinch runner Jaime White advanced to second on a sacrifice bunt by junior All-American Ashli Barrett. Designated player Mandy Fulton followed Barrett's bunt with one of her own, placing runners on second and third with two outs. Freshman shortstop Kelli Braitsch then nailed a single to left field, driving in White for the 3-0 lead.

The Bruins tightened the game with a run of their own in the bottom of the sixth inning. Freshman Natasha Watley reached on an infield single and then moved to third on a Julie Adams single to right-center field. Watley scored on a sacrifice fly by UCLA catcher Julie Marshall, but OU pitcher Jennifer Stewart promptly recorded her only strikeout of the game on the next batter to end the inning.

Stewart earned the World Series Most Outstanding Player award, earning victories in all four of OU's WCWS wins. Carey and Braitsch joined Stewart on the all-tournament team.

OU became just the second non-West Coast team to win a softball national championship.

THE SHOT HEARD 'ROUND OKLAHOMA

OU All-American Lisa Carey's two-run home run (below) in the 2000 National Championship game instantly became the program's greatest individual moment. The blast gave the Sooners the decisive 3-1 lead and eventually sealed the program's first national championship.

BIG 12 SUPREMACY

BIG 12 CHAMPS
Oklahoma has claimed the Big 12 regular season title on three occasions and has also clinched the Big 12 Tournament title twice.

Just 11 years into its existence, the Big 12 has vaulted to the top of intercollegiate athletics. A regular player in the determination of the national championships, the conference offers its more than 4,000 student-athletes that rare opportunity to compete in the national spotlight year in and year out.

No Big 12 softball member has seen that spotlight shine more brightly in its direction than the Oklahoma program.

The Sooners have been on the national stage for the Women's College World Series in five of the last seven years. No Big 12 team has made more appearances at the WCWS since the inception of the conference in 1996. In fact, Nebraska and Texas are the only other teams to make more than one trip to the WCWS during that time frame.

It doesn't stop there though.

OU has more NFCA All-Americans than the rest of the conference. The nation's coaches have voted 22 Sooners onto the NCAA's elite teams. Only two other teams - Nebraska and Texas with 12 - can claim to have double-digit All-Americans during the Big 12 era.

The Sooners lead the pack in All-Big 12 first team selections as well.

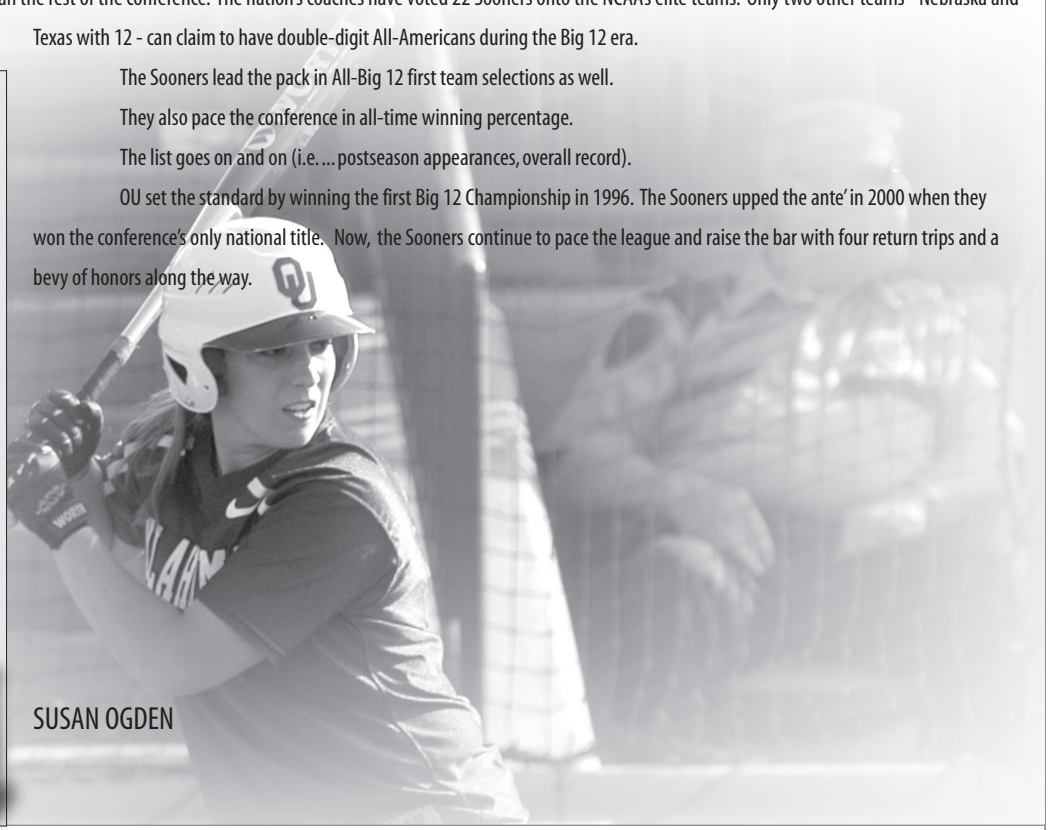
They also pace the conference in all-time winning percentage.

The list goes on and on (i.e.... postseason appearances, overall record).

OU set the standard by winning the first Big 12 Championship in 1996. The Sooners upped the ante' in 2000 when they won the conference's only national title. Now, the Sooners continue to pace the league and raise the bar with four return trips and a bevy of honors along the way.

BEDLAM SUCCESS

The Sooners' work in the Bedlam Series is even more impressive. Since the official start of the Bank of Oklahoma Bedlam Series presented by your Local Ford Dealers (2001), the trophy hasn't left Norman. OU has won it outright five of the six years and retained it after a split in 2003. Since the start of Big 12 play, OU has done no worse than a split with Oklahoma State in the regular season series, while claiming the series in nine of 11 years. Junior Susan Ogden was huge in the Bedlam series last season as she hit .667 with four RBI and a home run in the two regular season wins against OSU in 2006.



SUSAN OGDEN

BIG 12 WINNING PERCENTAGE

OU head coach Patty Gasso came on board in 1995 and one year later the Big 12 was born. Since season one, the Sooners have proved to be the class of the conference. They won the first regular season title, they were the first to 50 wins and the first to 100 wins. It's no wonder they lead the conference in all-time winning percentage (illustrated to the right). Below is a look at OU's year-by-year record in Big 12 play.

YEAR	RECORD	FINISH	BIG 12 TOURNAMENT
1996	17-5	Big 12 Regular Season Champions	CHAMPIONS
1997	14-4	Second	Semifinals

BIG 12 ALL-AMERICANS

The Sooners have certainly made their mark on the Big 12 scene, but they haven't stopped there. OU has raked in more national and regional honors than any other Big 12 program (All-America honors illustrated to the right). No area better emphasizes that distinction than All-Americans. Below is a list of the 22 OU All-Americans during the Big 12 era.

With team accomplishments comes individual recognition. That adage has held true with the Oklahoma softball program, which has raked in just about every honor out there.

Start with the coaching staff. OU head coach Patty Gasso, the architect of the Sooners' move to the top of the softball world, has been named the Big 12 Coach of the Year three times - 1996, 1999, 2000. Gasso and her staff were named Speedline/NFCA Division I National Coaching Staff of the Year in 2000 after claiming the National Championship. The OU coaching staff has also garnered the NFCA Midwest Region Coaching Staff of the Year award on five occasions - 1996, 1999, 2000, 2001 and 2004.

Since the start of Big 12 play, OU players have accumulated more honors than any other conference member. The list starts with All-Americans, of which OU has 22. At the regional level, 44 players have landed on the Midwest team. Among the Big 12 ranks, 42 Sooners have notched first team conference awards. Add in four Big 12 Players of the Year, two Freshman of the Year honorees, two Defensive Players of the Year, one Newcomer of the Year, 34 Players of the Week and 18 Pitchers of the Week and the list becomes overwhelming.

The softball program has always produced well-rounded athletes and the academic honors don't take a back seat. In 2000, Lana Moran became the first Sooner in any sport to garner the Academic All-American of the Year (see note on page 11). Six student-athletes have been named Academic All-Americans. Eight have earned Academic All-District recognition. A total of 36 have been named Academic All-Big Eight and already 49 have earned Academic All-Big 12 acclaim.

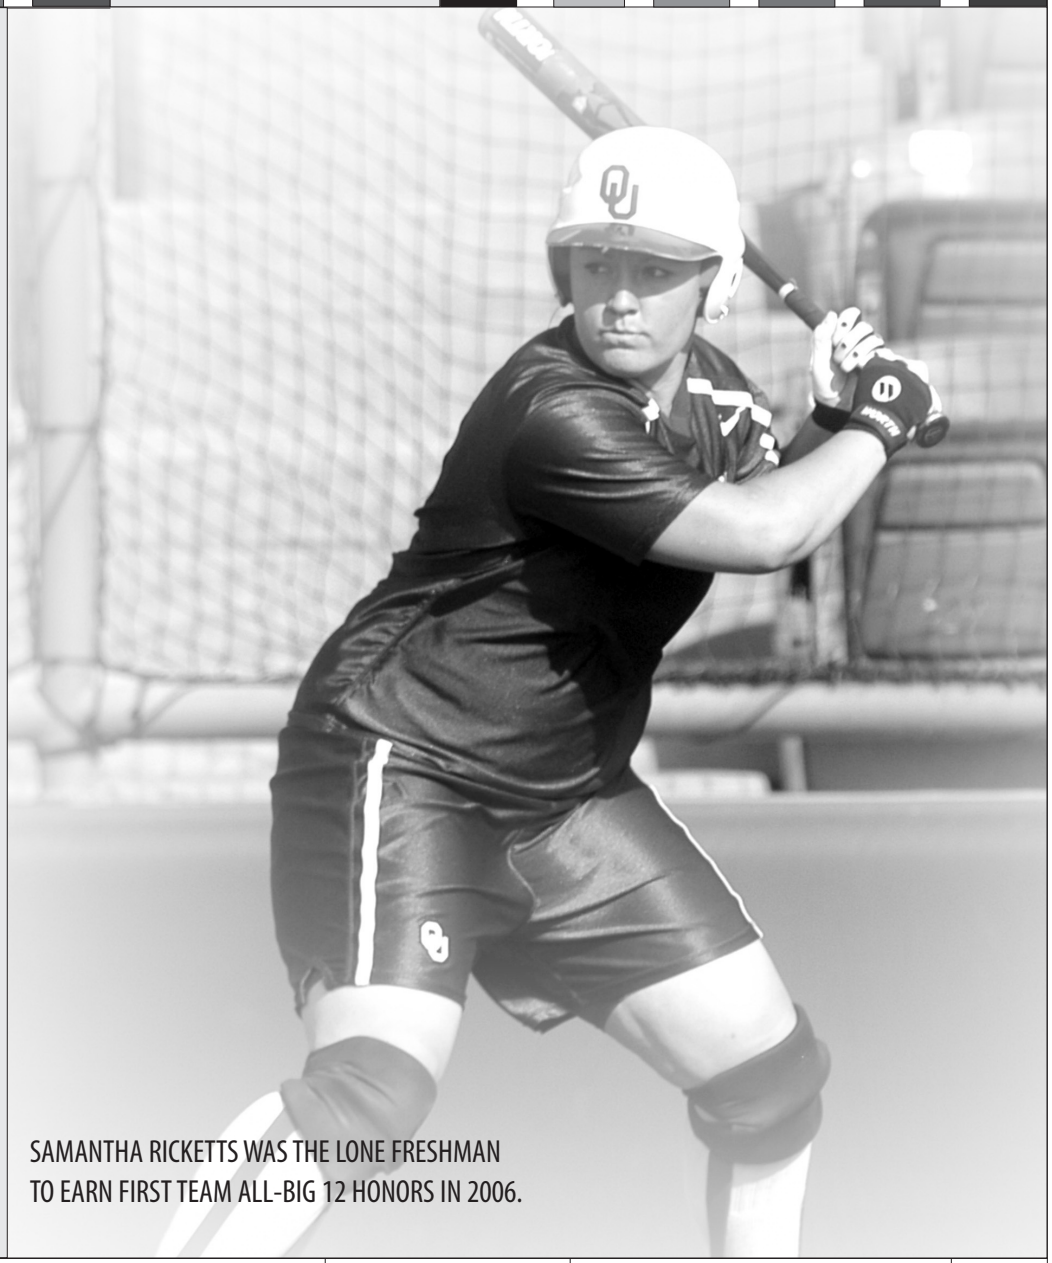
SETTING THE STANDARD

The graph to the left illustrates where OU ranks among Big 12 schools in All-Big 12 First Team honors. To the right is a graph that breaks down the Big 12 leaders in Midwest All-Region awards.

DEFINITION OF A STUDENT-ATHLETE

Oklahoma pitcher Lana Moran took the term student-athlete to new heights with her 2000 Academic All-American of the Year recognition. The lone senior on the 2000 National Championship team, Moran captained the team as she tallied a 26-2 mark with five shutouts. Moran's biggest achievement came in the classroom where the San Bernardino, Calif., native compiled a 3.88 GPA in sociology. Moran was a two-time GTE first team Academic All-American, a four-time Academic All-Big 12 selection and the first Sooner in any sport to be named Academic All-American of the Year.



SAMANTHA RICKETTS WAS THE LONE FRESHMAN TO EARN FIRST TEAM ALL-BIG 12 HONORS IN 2006.

USA INFLUENCE

The phone in Oklahoma head coach Patty Gasso's office rang three different times. Each time the USA Elite Team selection committee was on the other end. Each time they wanted Gasso to gauge the interest one of her players' would have in playing for the 2004 Elite Team.

After the third call, Gasso sat in her office and pondered what had happened over the last month. During that span, three Sooners had been invited (and accepted) to play in the First World University Softball Championships as members of the USA Elite Team, which ranks only behind the Olympic Team. Three Sooners were on the 16-player team, which was a first for any team at OU and only the fourth time any softball program had placed that many players on the squad at the same time.

It was just another sign that OU was among collegiate softball's creme de la creme but it still took some time to hit Gasso.

USA Softball's interest in the Oklahoma program continued this past summer as senior Norrelle Dickson was one of 16 collegiate players to play on the USA World Team in Taiwan.

Sooner players have been called on before. Former Sooners Kami Keiter and Heather Scaglione were rookies on the 2004 squad. Dickson, on the other hand, played in five tournaments with the Elite squad. Senior Kristin Vesely played for the USA Junior National Team before her freshman year and alum Leah Gulla (2000-03) was part of the most recent Olympic Trials. Additionally, alums Christina Enea, Kelli Braitsch and Lisa Carey have received a number of tryouts.

Sooner softball has carved its niche into USA Softball and Gasso should be ready for future calls.

NORRELLE DICKSON IS AWARDED HER GOLD MEDAL THIS SUMMER AS A MEMBER OF THE WORLD TEAM THAT COMPETED IN TAIWAN.

SOONERS IN THE PROS

As the sport of softball has risen in popularity over the last decade, the number of opportunities for collegiate athletes to play following their career has skyrocketed.

The Sooners have watched numerous alums graduate to the professional ranks. As far back as Jill Most, Jennifer Jaime and Lynnette Velasquez, OU has made an impact on the highest stage of softball.

During the inaugural National Pro Fastpitch College draft, three former Sooners were selected. Erin Evans made the most of her opportunity as an All-Star for the Houston Thunder, who had the best record during the league's first season. Leah Gulla and Christy Ring were also drafted by Colorado in the first NPF draft.

Most recently, Kristin Vesely was the fourth overall pick in the NPF draft least year and led the New England Riptide to the NPF title in her first season.

In 2005, Oklahoma led all programs with three draftees in the 2005 NPF Senior Draft as Heather Scaglione was the first catcher selected and Kami Keiter (11th) and Christina Enea (13th) were also drafted

Numerous student-athletes have come to Oklahoma hoping to continue their softball career, not just on the field as an NCAA athlete, but as a coach when they finish their careers in Norman.

 Indicates former assistant coaches*

OU head coach Patty Gasso has always encouraged her players to be active in the sport when their time as a Sooner has come to a close.

After 12 years with OU, Gasso has proteges sprinkled all over the country. Six former players are coaching at the collegiate level, as well as two former assistant coaches. Casey Dickson, who played for Gasso from 1995-97, is entering her second year as the head coach of Temple University. Christy Ring, an OU graduate assistant in 2003, is now a full-time assistant with Concordia University in Irvine, Calif.

Other alums are coaching on the high school or travel ball scene. Perhaps the most recognized of the group is Kim Young, who is the head softball coach and director of athletics at Mayfair High School in California.

The Sooner pipeline continues to grow with the graduation of each class. Add in two assistant coaches who have moved on to other opportunities and the OU program is doing its part to continue the development and promotion of softball inside and outside of Oklahoma's borders.

The Women's College World Series has been the biggest event in Oklahoma over the last few years.

The Oklahoma softball team capitalized on that exposure by winning in its first trip to the WCWS in 2000. Seven years later, four additional 28-mile trips north to Oklahoma City, and the Sooners are one of collegiate softball's most recognizable programs.

Patty Gasso's squad enjoys more coverage than arguably any program in the country. The unique media landscape in Oklahoma (check note on page 15) has something to do with that. Five straight WCWS has been a bigger influence.

Perhaps nothing better illustrates the softball program's rise than a June 2004, story in the largest paper in the state, The Oklahoman.

Columnist Jenni Carlson boldly proclaimed head coach Patty Gasso as the best coach at the University. Carlson ranked Gasso's achievements above those of football coach Bob Stoops, basketball coaches Sherri Coale and gymnastics coach Mark Williams. One opinion sparked argument throughout the state.

Gasso couldn't buy publicity that good.

But she and her teams' have certainly earned it.

TAKING CENTER STAGE

Being a major Division I athletics program with only one high scale professional team has its advantages. Oklahoma athletics receive more coverage than any other entity in the state.

Sooner softball receives a big slice of that coverage. Behind football and the basketball programs, softball and baseball are next on the food chain. The fact that softball and baseball are on the same level at OU says a lot about the success of Patty Gasso's program.

The media attention peaked to a near all-time high in 2004 (just short of the 2000 national championship season) when the Sooners advanced out of the toughest regional in the country, in the process knocking off No. 1 Arizona and No. 9 Louisiana-Lafayette. The Sooners were not only the biggest story in Oklahoma, but they stole the spotlight on the national level of collegiate softball.

On page 14 are a few examples of the many front page stories in the Oklahoman and the Norman Transcript.

PATTY GASSO

A pioneer and legend after 12 years. Better believe it.

Oklahoma head coach Patty Gasso has blazed the trail for the Big 12, which has quickly gained national softball respect in just 11 years of existence. No person has been more responsible for the conference's rise in prominence than the winningest coach in its history.

With five trips to the Women's College World Series in the last seven years, OU has not only earned respect but validated an entire conference.

Her work at OU has done more than just net gains for her employers and the league.

The Midwest was a dormant recruiting area when she arrived in 1995. Presently, the Midwest and South (especially Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana and Florida) rank a very close second to California.

All that without even mentioning her accomplishments.

In 2003, Oklahoma was named the fifth best program all-time by the National Fastpitch Coaches Association. Go back to 1994, before Gasso arrived in Norman, and it's a guarantee that OU doesn't even sniff the top 25.

During her tenure, the Sooners have reached the postseason every year. They have claimed five Regional Championships, made five WCWS appearances and claimed one national championship.

Not many coaches around the land can claim those credentials. Then again, if you tally the combined accomplishments of many conferences, they can't either.

So what's next? It would be a mistake to say more of the same. This program has risen dramatically for 12 years and Gasso doesn't intend to slow the pace one bit.

Titles like "Coaching Legend" and "Best Coach In Big 12 History" are usually reserved for retired leaders.

In Gasso's case, there is no need to wait, she has already earned both titles.

MEDIA SAVVY

Coach Gasso understands the role of the media. In fact no one is a better or more willing publicist for the program than she. Whether it's a weekly spot on local radio, or guest commentating on FOX for the Big 12 Tournament, or in-game interviews with ESPN or post game radio interviews, the fact is Gasso has a knack for live broadcasts. Her on-air skills have made her a favorite of local and national outlets alike.

The same attributes that drew OU head coach Patty Gasso to Melyssa Lombardi as a player are the reasons that she has excelled as the pitching coach on the Oklahoma staff.

Lombardi is renowned for her work ethic and softball mind.

Watch her give pitching signs to her catchers and you'll quickly learn how complex her mind is.

Listen to Lombardi break down opposing hitters on film or observe her meticulously chart her pitching staff and the work ethic will come beaming through.

Those attributes are innate.

Another one is uncanny... it's the fact that she is a Gasso clone.

The head and assistant coach think on the same wave length and fall just short of finishing each other's sentences.

It's no wonder that Lombardi has been on staff for nine years, and despite being one of the hottest head coaching prospects in the country, she has shown little desire to venture out of Norman.

All those traits have translated into one of the nation's best pitching staffs year in and year out.

Three pitchers have garnered four All-America honors under her tutelage and the staff has continually ranked among the best in the Big 12 and country.

Howard Dobson has quickly made a name for himself in collegiate softball. The timeline of his rise to national recognition is impressive.

Dobson began to gain national respect when he arrived at Houston. He was on the first coaching staff for the Cougars in 2000 and helped lead the rookie program to a fifth-place finish in Conference USA. Two years later, he had the Cougar offense at the top of Conference USA with league-best marks in hits, runs, slugging percentage, RBI and home runs. That squad ranked 12th in the country in batting average and 30th in runs per game.

When Dobson took the job at Oklahoma, he had to live up to a serious legacy. The OU softball team had led the conference in hitting for three consecutive years.

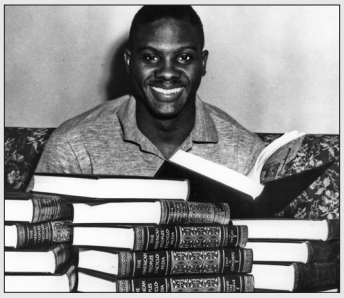
Dobson's first season saw the Sooners finish second in the batting average race but they topped the conference in runs and slugging percentage and ranked third in on-base percentage.

In 2004, OU won the Big 12 team batting title and led the conference in nine offensive categories. Yet, that wasn't his most impressive work of the year. Dobson was the star of OU's improbable 2004 postseason run. Through hours of preparation, he was able to lay out a flawless game plan for the NCAA Regional in Tucson. OU put together the best offensive numbers among the 64 teams in regionals and soundly defeated the top two pitchers (statistically) in the nation - Alicia Hollowell (Arizona) and Brooke Mitchell (Louisiana-Lafayette).

In 2005, Dobson had his best season since joining the program. The Sooners finished fourth in the nation in batting average with a .320 mark while leading the Big 12 in RBI (339) and hits (568). Dobson was influential in the making of 2005 All-American Kristin Vesely, one of three to earn All-America honors that year. Vesely finished the 2005 season as the league's top hitter with a .451 batting average (sixth in the nation).

Last season, Dobson developed a young Sooner team into an offensive juggernaut, topping all Big 12 schools in nine different offensive categories while ranking among the top 10 in the country in batting average. Under his direction, Dobson led Vesely (first team) and Norrelle Dickson (second team) to All-America honors as both finished among the top 10 players in the country in batting average. Dobson was also instrumental in Vesely's softball career as she became OU's all-time hits leader during her senior campaign.

OKLAHOMA REMEMBERS GAUTT



Prentice Gautt ushered in a new era for Oklahoma football when he landed a spot on the 1956 team. Former Sooner head coach Bud Wilkinson was pressured against giving Gautt a scholarship. A group of black doctors and pharmacists gave money for Gautt to attend the school. Within a year, Gautt was given a scholarship and the donated amounts were given to another black student.

Gautt, considered Oklahoma's best player in 1958, was a two-time All-Big Eight player and 1959 Orange Bowl MVP. During his senior year, Gautt was named to the Academic All-America team and eventually earned master's and doctorate degrees in psychology.

The academic center for student-athletes at the University of Oklahoma was named in Gautt's honor in 1999. A special assistant to the commissioner of the Big 12 Conference, Gautt passed away on March 17, 2005.

"His personal example of quiet courage, grace under pressure, and dedication to the university helped open the doors of opportunity for countless numbers of African-Americans and minority student-athletes who have followed him into collegiate athletics," said University of Oklahoma president David Boren.

In the 1950s, he came to OU to play football, and, in the process, broke down barriers and crushed stereotypes. Today, OU student-athletes use the Prentice Gautt Academic Center to break another kind of stereotype. The center that today's student-athletes use every day now bears the name of the man who left an indelible legacy for Sooner Athletics and helped change a society in the process.

The formal dedication of the Prentice Gautt Academic Center was held Friday, Sept. 17, 1999. The proposal to re-name the center was approved by the OU Board of Regents in March 1999.

"It is appropriate that this center be named after Prentice Gautt," OU President David L. Boren said. "His personal values and character, along with his leadership as associate commissioner of the Big 12 Conference, continue to bring pride to his alma mater. His personal example of quiet courage, grace under pressure, and dedication to the university helped open the doors of opportunity for countless number of African-American and minority student-athletes who have followed him into collegiate athletics."

The professional consultants of the Prentice Gautt Academic Center help student-athletes with a variety of academic tasks, from learning strategy instruction to any stage of the writing process including preparing for an essay exam and the formal research paper.

The goal is to help student-athletes develop the strategies they need to be successful by encouraging the use of the center for all facets of the learning and writing processes encountered in college.

The Prentice Gautt Academic Center provides student-athletes with a state-of-the-art academic support facility. The environment encourages a collaboration between staff members and student-athletes. In addition, it is highly conducive to learning in all areas of students' academic endeavors and features seven learning centers.

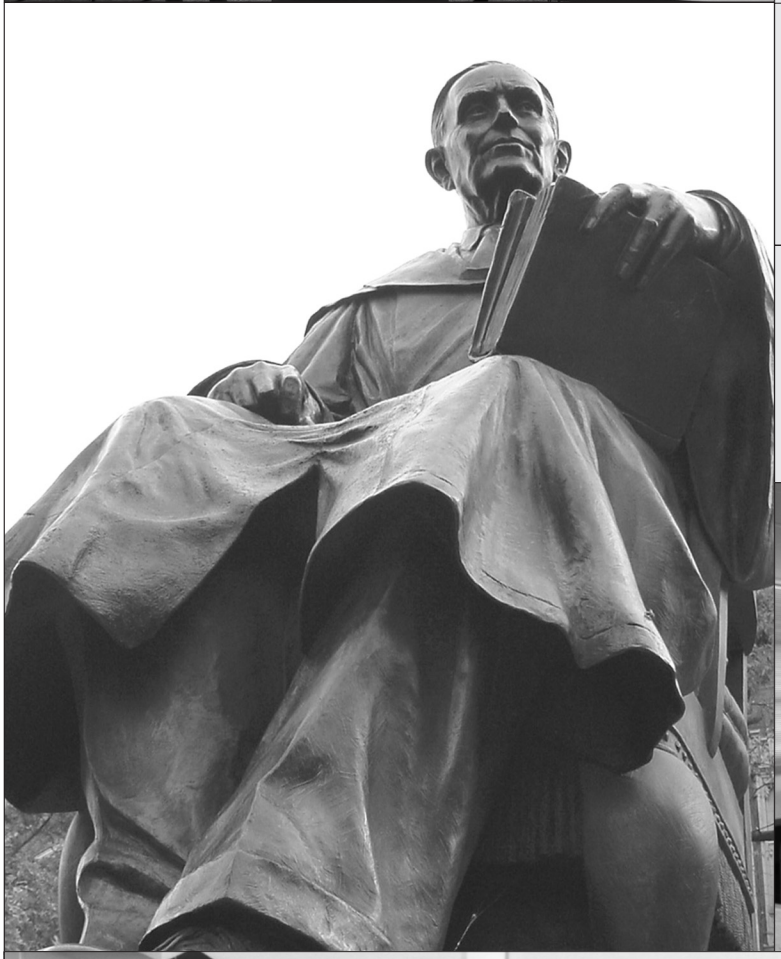
Located on the second and third floors in the north end of the Gaylord Family - Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Academic Center houses Academic Counseling Offices, the Kerr Foundation Computer Centers, Learning and Skill Development Centers for communication, reading, study skills, math and foreign languages, the Kerr Career Center, the Thompson Writing Center, Mentoring Office and study areas.

COMMUNICATION CENTER

A recent addition to the academic center focuses on developing communication and public speaking skills for student-athletes. This state-of-the-art center, coordinated by a broadcast professional, builds strong media relations skills through the use of video equipment.

THOMPSON WRITING CENTER

Because learning and writing are essential life long skills which can always be strengthened, the Writing and Study Skills Center offers personalized instruction to student-athletes who seek assistance in refreshing, reviewing, or improving these skills.

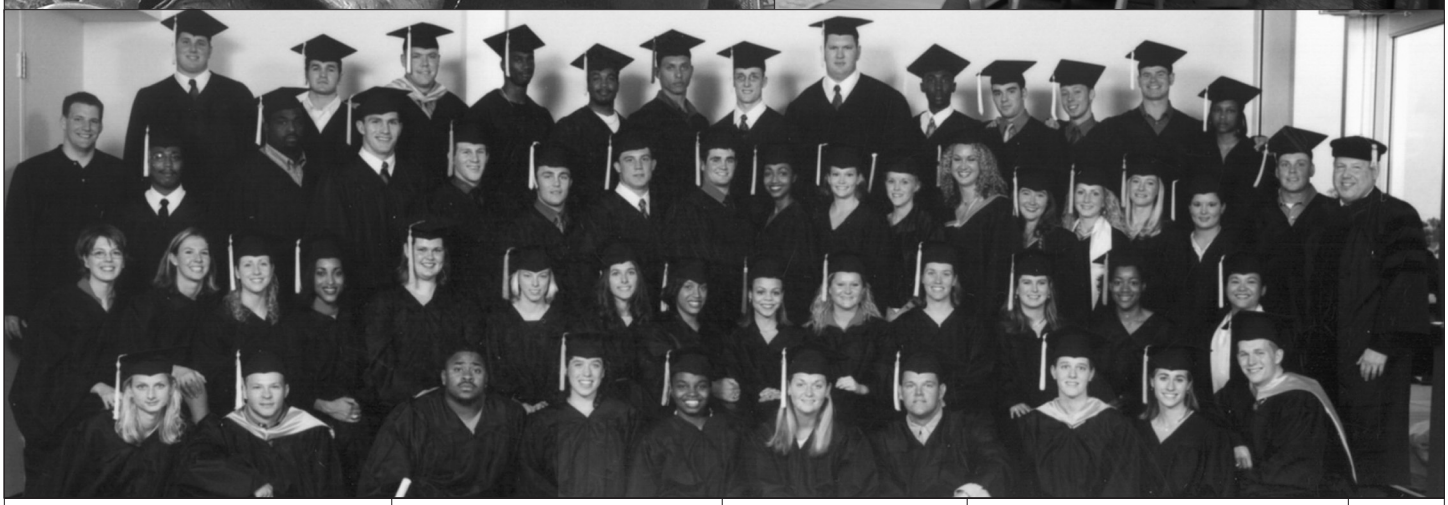


STUDY SKILLS CENTER

If students have trouble with assigned textbook readings or studying, the Reading and Study Skills Center can help. It provides reading and studying techniques and instructs how to make direct applications to current resources. Consultation, computer-assisted instruction, tutoring and independent activities are available.

MATH CENTER

If performing math functions is a problem, the solution is the Math Center. As a supplement to class instruction, the Math Center provides all levels of math computations, concepts and problems to help students review course material. In addition, it offers personal and group tutoring sessions to assist with math assignments.



OU SOFTBALL COMPLEX

Marita Hynes Field at the OU Softball Complex has been one of the sparkling gems of the sport since it opened its doors in 1998.

OU was one of the first schools outside of the Pac 10 to make the commitment to its softball program by building an exclusive facility for the sport. The trend caught on and Oklahoma was again leading the pack in women's athletics as new stadiums have sprung up across the national landscape.

The most recent improvement at the OU Softball Complex was synthetic waterproof dirt on the infield and warning track, which allows Patty Gasso's team to train on the field minutes after a rain storm has moved through.

The complex provides permanent chair back and bleacher seating with a capacity of 1,000; a concessions building and rest rooms; press box; VIP lounge and a ticket office. The complex is equipped with a state-of-the-art underground drainage system, sprinkler system and batting cages.

A paved parking lot was in place in time for the 1999 season and OU added the Robert E. Young & Family Softball Locker Room in 2002. The field was named for former softball coach and senior woman administrator, Marita Hynes, in 2004.

The community of Norman has embraced the program and placed it among the annual national leaders in average attendance.

To the right are the top-10 single game attendance marks in OU Softball Complex history.

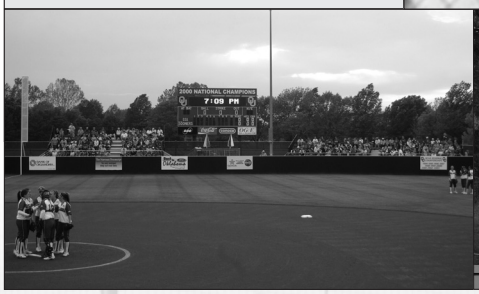
SOFTBALL PIONEER

It's a tough task to find a single individual who has had more effect on the collegiate sport of softball and its rise in popularity than Marita Hynes. The longtime fomer senior woman administrator for Oklahoma actually served as the program's second softball coach. When she retired from coaching to begin a career as an administrator, she remained active in the softball world. She spearheaded the fund-raising campaign to build the OU Softball Complex and oversaw its construction. During those years, she helped lure the Women's College World Series to Oklahoma City. For all her contributions to OU and beyond, the athletics department officially christened the playing surface as Marita Hynes Field on April 24, 2004.



GAME DAY AT THE OU SOFTBALL COMPLEX

Oklahoma's weight training program is a pioneer in the development of strength and conditioning, and is a vital part of the Sooners' traditional success. OU strength and conditioning coaches utilize their expertise along with a wide array of equipment and tests to produce national championship-caliber athletes.

Evaluation, goal-oriented programs, supervision and state-of-the-art facilities help Oklahoma athletes become bigger, faster, stronger and more flexible. The Robin Siegfried & Family Strength and Conditioning Complex, located in the Barry Switzer Center, has 13,000 square feet to facilitate the intensive training of OU athletes.

Jerry Schmidt, director of sports enhancement, says the Complex is a state-of-the-art facility where athletes work closely with five full-time staff members. "Oklahoma recognizes the importance of conditioning," says Schmidt. "This facility is reflective of that commitment."

The objective of the strength and conditioning program is to ensure each student-athlete in every sport is provided with a sound in-season and off-season program. This program of activity includes strength, conditioning, flexibility and nutrition. A strength and conditioning coordinator for each sport is provided to assist athletes in reaching the highest possible training levels.

The OU strength and conditioning staff takes great pride in providing a very intensive program that helps maintain greater overall body strength and conditioning levels during the season. By maintaining strength in the muscles and connective tissues throughout the season, the potential for injuries decreases.

The off-season program is extremely intensive. Speed, strength, power, agility, fundamentals and nutrition are addressed. The OU staff is committed to full compliance with NCAA rules concerning time allocation for student-athletes and voluntary workouts during off-season periods.

The staff's interaction with the nutritional consultants on campus is essential. The staff maintains an open channel of communication with the dining staff at the Jefferson Dining Hall. This interaction enables the strength and conditioning staff to ensure that OU athletes receive a winning edge with a sound nutrition program.

"Our goal is to get the student-athletes in their best condition," says Schmidt. "That condition will give Oklahoma an edge at the end of a game. Top of the line conditioning is what it takes to be a Sooner athlete. Running, lifting and good nutrition must be kept in a balance."

Located at the south end of Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Barry Switzer Center houses administrative offices, the football locker room, the equipment room, the 8,000-square-foot Sports Medicine Facility and the 7,000-square-foot Touchdown Club Legends Lobby in addition to the Siegfried Strength and Conditioning Complex.

TRIATHLON

In addition to its rigorous off season training in the weight room, the OU softball team also holds a triathlon unique to the Oklahoma softball program. A long-standing tradition with fierce competition between teammates, the Sooners prepare in the fall for a series of exercises in the triathlon that include biking, swimming and running. While the competition is fierce, the program uses the triathlon as a bonding time for the team as each player encourages one another to the finish line. Upon finishing, the players and coaching staff enjoy a barbeque out in center field to celebrate the achievement.

The Oklahoma Athletics Department feels a strong responsibility to help its athletes reach and maintain their optimum health and achieve conditioning goals. For this reason, OU has developed excellent training and conditioning programs to lessen the possibility of injuries. However, should injuries occur, the department is committed to a comprehensive rehabilitation program.

Complete athletically-related medical services are provided to Oklahoma student-athletes by team physicians and OU's certified athletic trainers. The University of Oklahoma obtains the services of the best medical consultants available.

The base of operation for the Sooners' medical care is the state-of-the-art Henry J. Freede, M.D. Sports Medicine Center in the Barry Switzer Center.

Head athletic trainer Scott Anderson says the addition to the Barry Switzer Center has allowed the university to upgrade to a new edition of rehabilitation equipment that can best benefit the student-athletes.

From simple therobands to taping tables, the new facility offers everything a school can have or hope to have. The Sooner training room is equipped to perform isokinetic joint evaluation for preventive medicine and for post-injury rehabilitation. The therapy room is supplied with the latest modalities on the market.

"The addition of space is the greatest benefit," says Anderson. "This space allows for dedicated rehabilitation and consultation to the athletes. A new option with the facility is the water rehabilitation area. The athlete stands in a pool of water that is adjusted to his or her own physical needs. Cameras are then placed where physicians can monitor the progress made by the athlete on his or her road to recovery."

A total team effort is the key to OU's efficiency in preventing, treating and rehabilitating injuries sustained by student-athletes. These measures keep Sooner athletes at their highest level of performance as they compete for championships.

"Sports medicine is a team effort," says Anderson. "The stated goal of athletic training at Oklahoma is, first of all, care for the student-athletes, thereby granting our sports a competitive advantage and ultimately greater esteem for the entire program.

"To that end we are blessed with a full complement of self-sacrificing medical professionals working on a regular basis with our athletic training staff."

Norman is an ever-changing city of nearly 90,000 residents. Located in the heart of the state, it has grown to become the third largest city in Oklahoma. Despite its continuous growth, it has maintained the spirit and serenity of a small close-knit community.

Since the Oklahoma Land Rush of 1889, Norman has grown into a popular and smart city. The spirit of Norman and its citizens is unwavering and uncompromising. While other towns were clamoring to become the state capital, Norman residents wanted to have the first state university. When the first OU president got off the train and saw a prairie, he saw opportunity.

As home to the state's premier educational institution, Norman boasts an excellent quality of life and is a city that thrives on and celebrates the diversity of its community.

Legendary University of Oklahoma football coach Barry Switzer called Norman "a university town with a championship spirit." Norman continually exhibits its love for sports by hosting numerous local and national athletic events.

Cultural activities are unlimited in Norman, making it the ideal backdrop for the University of Oklahoma. As home to people of all ethnic and educational backgrounds, the city has something to offer everyone.

The $44 million Sam Noble Oklahoma Museum of Natural History, a state-of-the-art facility designed to display a collection of historical and natural science items that trace the southwest's development since prehistoric times, opened in May 2000. History buffs will also enjoy the Cleveland Country Historical House which holds exhibits relating to the development of this area of the state.

For art enthusiasts, the Fred Jones Jr. Memorial Art Center houses permanent collections, nationally and world-renowned traveling exhibits as well as a yearly student art show. The museum has recently added the Weitzenhoffer Collection of French Impressionist paintings -- the single most important gift of art ever given to a U.S. public university.

Multi-screen theaters in Norman offer a wide range of movie options. Community theater and dance performances continue to be a favorite in Norman with productions by several groups. With the Cimarron Circuit Opera Company and the annual Jazz in June celebration, Norman also offers a great opportunity to hear a variety of musical artists on almost any night of the week.

Maintaining a progressive approach to the future while remembering its history, Norman continues to be a well-balanced community, proud to be the home of the University of Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City, the capital of Oklahoma, is located just 18 miles north of the Norman campus. It was the first city settled in the Land Run of 1889 because of its position at the center of the state.

Oklahoma City offers a variety of attractions and activities different from any other place in the country.

Just over a century ago, the site of Oklahoma City was a grass-and-timbered land of gently rolling hills flattening out into prairie in the west. Today, Oklahoma City sprawls across 625 square miles of America's heartland. The city's metro population numbers more than a million -- a third of the entire state's population.

Oklahoma City was born on the afternoon of April 22, 1889, when the central portion of what is now Oklahoma was opened to settlement by presidential proclamation. Thousands crossed the borders of "unassigned lands" at the sound of gunfire at high noon. Never before or since has such a "run" occurred anywhere on the earth.

By the time the dust had settled on that historic day, many people had staked their claim at "Oklahoma Station," an area which was destined to become Oklahoma City. In 1911, Oklahoma City officially became the capital after a statewide election moved the state seal from Guthrie.

Oklahoma City has become a haven for exciting sports action. It is home of one professional team, two semi-professional sports teams and the host of the NCAA College Softball World Series and Big 12 Softball Championship. The NBA's Hornets relocated to OKC in September of 2005 and will play the majority of their 2006-07 schedule at the Ford Center. The Oklahoma RedHawks are the Triple-A baseball affiliate of the Texas Rangers. The team plays in the 13,066-seat SBC Bricktown Ballpark, one of the plushest venues in all of minor league sports.

2007 SEASON OUTLOOK

A GLIMPSE INTO 2007

The Oklahoma softball team enters the 2007 season with one of the Big 12's biggest advantages - experience. The Sooners only lost one starter from last season's squad and return eight position players, including All-American Norrelle Dickson and All-Midwest Region shortstop Savannah Long.

OU's RBI leader last season, Samantha Ricketts, returns after playing the designated player role as a freshman last season while the Sooners return three members of their pitching staff, including lefty D.J. Mathis who led the squad in ERA and wins as a freshman last season.

"This group has the potential to win the Big 12 and get us back to the Women's College World Series," head coach Patty Gasso said. "I believe our experience from last season will be our biggest advantage heading into this year. If I didn't think that we could compete for a National Championship, then I wouldn't be doing my job."

PROJECTED LINEUP

The potent Oklahoma offense returns for more in 2007 as the young squad was an offensive juggernaut last season, topping all Big 12 schools in nine different offensive categories while finishing 10th in the country with a team batting average of .311.

Head coach Patty Gasso's biggest hurdle with the lineup will be trying to make room in the lineup for all of the bats she has on the team.

"It's a good problem to have, but I've got a powerful group of hitters who need to get time in the lineup," Gasso said. "We only have nine spots in the lineup but an entire team that is very solid offensively."

Two-time All-American Dickson returns in her role as the leadoff hitter and offensive spark for the Sooner lineup. The speedy lefty slapper claimed the Big 12 batting title last season with a .449 batting average, which also ranked fifth in the country, and topped all other conference players in runs scored, hits and on-base percentage.

Senior Amber Spaulding had a breakout season in the No. 2 spot last season and brings athleticism and speed to the lineup. Spaulding could also move further down the lineup because of the power she brings to the plate as the left fielder finished second on the team with eight home runs last season.

Most likely, powerful freshman Amber Flores will be slated to fill the void at the No. 3 spot left behind by former All-American Kristin Vesely. The rookie showed her talent in fall camp and will make any pitcher pay for a mistake made at the plate.

Ricketts returns in her role in the clean up spot. Ricketts led the entire squad in RBI last year and ranked 30th in the country with her 51 RBI in 2006.

"I am really excited about the combination of Flores and Ricketts in the lineup," Gasso said. "The potential between those two power hitters could be a great contribution to our lineup this season."

Mariee Mena and Savannah Long will bring their experience to the heart of the lineup. Mena is a veteran senior who is a true, pure hitter at the plate and knows what to expect because of her experience. Gasso believes Long is the most improved athlete on the team as the athletic junior had a strong 2006, hitting at a .297 hitting percentage and recording 12 doubles. Additionally, sophomore Traci Dickenson will also vye for time in the lineup.

Similar to last season, the latter part of the lineup will be extremely competitive as the freshmen look to make a name for themselves while competing for time against veteran starters. Veteran leaders Jamie Fox, Susan Ogden and Stacia Aleman will be back in the mix as Gasso believes she needs all three in the lineup with their experience.

Fox returns for her senior season after working hard to rehab her shoulder in the offseason. She has the potential to bring more power to the lineup with her powerful bat. Aleman moved into a starting role in the latter part of the season while Gasso has been very impressed with Ogden and the way she elevated her game last season.

In addition to Flores, the freshmen class should also have a huge impact on this year's lineup. Iver McDonald will bring more speed to the lineup as Gasso calls her one of the quickest to ever play for the OU program. Her speed puts pressure on the defense and the rookie will also be called upon for pinch running situations.

Lindsey Vandever rounds out the rookie group as the extremely athletic catcher has been compared to former Sooner All-Americans Heather Scaglione and Ashli Barret. Her powerful bat could be a huge force for the Sooners this season.

THE INFIELD

While every infield starter returns this season, the defense could still have a new look as a few players could shuffle between positions.

"Our defense probably won't shake itself out until a few weeks into the season," Gasso said. "All of the infielders are capable of playing great defense, but whoever's bat is the hottest will be who is playing on defense."

Highlighting the defense is flame-throwing, all-everything infielder Long. The junior started at second base last season before returning to her previous position, shortstop, in the latter half of the season. Long led the Sooners to the most double plays in school history with her efforts in the middle of the infield and could see time at both positions this year.

Sophomore Jessica Legendre has a year of experience behind her after starting half of the season at shortstop and will be vying for a spot in the infield. Gasso calls Legendre as one of the smoothest playmakers on the team.

Anchoring the third base side could be Dickson, Flores or Dickenson. Ironically, all three players are similar in that they are true athletes who have the ability to play anywhere on the field. Dickson started her first two years in the infield before moving to the outfield last season due to needs in the outfield.

Dickenson, a consistent starter at third base last year, is a solid athlete who is much more seasoned after starting as a freshman last year. With Flores' strong bat, she will be in the lineup somewhere as she saw time at second, third and the outfield in the fall.

While Flores, Dickenson and Long could all see time at second base, veteran senior Aleman brings the most experience to the position but could also move to the outfield this season depending upon the lineup.

Bringing experience to first base is Mena, who was a consistent start at the spot all of last season. Ricketts, who saw action in the designated player role last year, worked at first during the fall and has embraced the position.

THE OUTFIELD

Similar to the infield, there could be a variety of new faces in the outfield who have played in the infield prior to this year.

"We are really going to switch a lot of players around on defense and I have been so comforted by the fact that they have all be so eager to learn and have embraced their new positions," Gasso said.

Providing stability in the outfield will be senior Spaulding who played in right field last season but could take over for the graduated Vesely in center field this season.

While Spaulding's move to center leaves the left and right sides of the outfield open, freshman McDonald will see time as the speedy rookie has the ability to chase down balls all over the field.

Senior Fox will also be vying for a spot in her previous spot at right field as she has continued to rehabilitate her arm.

Rounding out the outfield crew are Jade Prather, Jeannie Douglas, Flores, Mena and Aleman. All four have played positions in the infield but learned the ropes of the outfield during the fall season.

THE BATTERY

The circle will again have the biggest impact on the Sooners this season, but an experienced four-member staff returns in 2007 after struggling with not much experience last season.

"I am very pleased with our pitchers' improvement," Gasso said. "They worked hard in the offseason and I was very encouraged in the fall as they were getting ahead early in their counts."

Mathis returns to the circle after taking the reins of the team as freshman last year and leading the entire staff in wins and ERA (15-9, 2.24 ERA). The feisty left-handed sophomore took the fall off to undergo successful shoulder surgery and will be 100 percent by the beginning of the season in February.

"Never in my coaching career have I put all the eggs in a freshman pitcher's basket, but D.J. was huge for us last year," Gasso said. "She took so much from last season and it will be a huge payoff for us this year."

Adding to the depth is two-time juco All-American Lauren Eckermann. The NJCAA leader in ERA last season brings determination and calmness to the mound and will rotate with Mathis as the top two pitchers on the staff.

Adding depth to the circle are right-handed pitchers Jadyn Smith and Morgan Hudsonpillar. Smith, a hard-working, determined junior, showed strong improvement in the fall while Hudsonpillar has also shown tremendous promise after one year in the Oklahoma program.

The Sooners also remain deep at catcher with Ogden and Vandever competing for the spot. The competition lasted through the fall and will continue as each player has pushed the other for the starting catcher spot. Both players bring benefits to the battery.

Ogden, last year's starting catcher, embraced the role last season. She brings experience with the staff and proved in the fall she can handle the position.

Vandever is extremely athletic behind the plate and is very comfortable taking charge despite her youth. Using her quick release, Vandever doesn't let too many steal on her.

"Without a doubt, this season is going to depend heavily on our pitching," Gasso said. "We must be consistent in the battery if we want to have a successful year and achieve all of our goals."

BIG 12 CONFERENCE

Fresh off its 10th anniversary season, the Big 12 Conference begins its second decade of competition in 2006-07. While there have been many proud accomplishments through the first 10 years, the conference and its members anticipate continued success.

Through its first 10 years, the Big 12 claimed 28 team and 310 individual NCAA titles. During this past season, conference programs captured national championships in football (Texas), women's indoor track & field (Texas), wrestling (Oklahoma State) and men's golf (Oklahoma State). In addition, 22 individual event titles were also won by student-athletes that compete in the Big 12.

The 2004-05 campaign marked the most successful in conference history with six NCAA championships. Baylor won the crown for women's basketball, becoming the first Big 12 squad to win in that sport. Colorado won both the men's and women's cross country trophies, just the fourth school in NCAA annals to win both in the same year. Oklahoma State regained the top spot in wrestling, winning the national title for the 33rd time. Texas captured its fourth women's outdoor track & field crown, along with its sixth national championship in baseball.

The Big 12 leads all conferences with five appearances in the BCS National Championship game. A Big 12 team has played for the football national championship five of the last six years, and each of the last three. In basketball, an unprecedented eight men's and women's basketball teams have advanced to their respective Final Fours in the past five seasons as the Big 12 continues its place among the elite intercollegiate athletic conferences.

The Big 12 and its member institutions are committed to a competitive environment where sportsmanship and fair play take center stage. Whether on the field, in the classroom, or within the community the student-athletes, administrators, coaches and game officials of the Big 12 support the highest ideals in sportsmanship.

Competitive excellence, scholarships and sportsmanship are all equal components of the Big 12's philosophy. All-Big 12 teams and All-Big 12 Academic squads are recognized for each sport at the end of their respective seasons.

At the end of each academic year, the Conference honors its top male and female student-athletes with the Big 12 Athlete of the Year and Big 12 Sportsperson of the Year awards.

Institutions can also nominate student-athletes for the prestigious Dr. Prentice Gautt Postgraduate Scholarships at the end of each academic year. A total of 153 scholars have received more than $845,000 in postgraduate financial aid through the first nine years of the program.

The Big 12 sponsors 21 sports. Men's squads include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, swimming & diving, tennis and wrestling. Women's teams are fielded in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis and volleyball.

The conference is made up of 12 institutions that have shared many traditional rivalries throughout their histories. Member schools include - Baylor University, University of Colorado, Iowa State University, University of Kansas, Kansas State University, University of Missouri, University of Nebraska, University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State University, University of Texas, Texas A&M University and Texas Tech University.

The institutions created a league that encompasses seven states, over 42 million people and more than 18 million television households within its geographic footprint.

The conference conducts championships for 20 of its 21 sports. Each championship helps to determine teams and/or individuals that will represent the Conference in national postseason competition. The winner of the Big 12 football championship game earns the league's berth into the prestigious Bowl Championship Series.

The Big 12 is under the direction of its third commissioner, Kevin L. Weiberg, who took over the reins in December 1998. Weiberg has led the Big 12 into additional football bowl agreements and expanded television opportunities for all sports through contracts with ABC/ESPN, FSN, TBS and CSTV.

In its 10-year history, the conference has distributed $807.2 million to its 12 member institutions.

The Big 12 staff administers to over 4,600 student-athletes in 21 sports. The conference headquarters will move to Irving, Texas, from Dallas in August 2006.

PATTY GASSO

HEAD COACH | 13TH SEASON | 746-259-2 (.742) | LONG BEACH STATE, 1984

As she begins her 13th season at the University of Oklahoma, head coach Patty Gasso has molded the OU softball program into a national power and permanently placed herself among the elite college softball coaches in the country.

The Sooners have reached the Women's College World Series in five of the last seven years and, in the process, advanced to the postseason all 12 years under Gasso. The WCWS run began in 2000 when her team won the NCAA National Championship in OU's first appearance.

Coach Gasso holds an overall record of 584-200-2 (.744) at the University of Oklahoma and continues to distance herself from her counterparts in the Big 12 and her predecessors at OU. She has won more Big 12 games (142-51) than any coach in the league's history and has nearly doubled up every other coach who ever led the Sooners.

In 2006, Gasso led the Sooners to their 13th straight 40-win season. The young Sooner squad made a strong postseason run, winning 12 of its final 15 contests while finishing second in the Big 12 Championship and advancing to the NCAA Regional Finals for the seventh consecutive year.

Is she the best coach in the history of Oklahoma softball? Undoubtedly. Is she the greatest coach in Big 12 history? The stats say she is. Could she be one of the best coaches to ever coach college softball? Each season she continues to build what is a very strong argument.

Currently in her 17th season as a head coach, Gasso has a career collegiate coaching record of 746-259-2 (.742).
Gasso's Sooner teams have finished second or higher eight different times since the inception of the Big 12 in 1996. They have won 74 percent of their Big 12 contests and OU has claimed three Big 12 regular season and two tournament titles under her direction.

Numerous Sooner players have prospered under Coach Gasso's tutelage and garnered national, regional and conference recognition. She has directed 23 All-Americans, 44 All-Midwest Region honorees and 80 all-conference selections. In the Big 12 era, four Sooners have been named Big 12 Player of the Year, two have been selected as Big 12 Freshman of the Year and one as Big 12 Newcomer. In addition, 2005 graduate Heather Scaglione was a two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year.

The OU softball success under Gasso has also spilled over into the classroom where 64 individuals have earned academic all-conference recognition and five of those have gone on to become Academic All-Americans, including Lana Moran, the 2000 Academic All-American of the Year.

Gasso and her staff have consistently been recognized for their efforts on and off the field. The staff was awarded three consecutive Speedline/NFCA Midwest Region Coaching Staff of the Year awards from 1999-2001, while also receiving the national honor in 2000. Gasso and staff have claimed the Midwest honor in five of their 12 seasons with the most recent award coming in 2004. In addition, Gasso has been named the Big 12 and Midwest Region Coach of the Year in 1996, 1999 and 2000.

Gasso's career with the Sooners began in 1995 when she arrived at OU after five successful years at Long Beach City College. Her accomplishments during her tenure at LBCC and since led to Gasso being named to the LBCC Hall of Champions in 2004.

Later during the 2004 summer, Gasso was inducted into the inaugural class of the Long Beach City Baseball and Softball Hall of Fame. Her success in her hometown of Long Beach set the foundation for a spectacular career in Norman.

In her first season at the helm, the Sooners recorded a 43-23 record, finished second in the conference and reached the regional final. Several Sooners received awards for their play during the 1995 season, including 11 players who garnered all-conference accolades (four on the first team).

The Sooners also received national recognition for their stellar play as Brea Moore led a trio of players named to the All-Midwest Region team. Moore also earned NFCA All-America honors for her 23-7 record and 226 strikeouts. OU's players also excelled off the field during the 1995 season. Eight players earned academic all-conference honors, and four of them were selected to the first team. Jennifer Sherman led the way in the classroom for the softball squad, netting GTE CoSIDA Academic All-America honors.

Gasso and the Sooners reached new heights in 1996, recording a 50-20 record, a first-ever Big 12 Championship, and another regional final berth. OU dominated the inaugural Big 12 Tournament, putting five players on the all-tournament squad. Pitcher Jill Most was named the tourney MVP. Gasso's 1996 squad also became the first team outside of the states of California or Arizona to win the prestigious Pony Tournament.

Gasso was recognized by her peers for her team's performance, earning the Big 12 Coach-of-the-Year award. Again, Sooner players were mentioned as some of the league's best with 10 players receiving All-Big 12 recognition. Leading the way was Most, a junior from Tulsa, Okla. Most garnered Big 12 Conference Co-MVP honors for her 29-12 record and 356 strikeouts. Most was one of two players (Casey Dickson) to earn conference player-of-the-week recognition, receiving the award four times. She was also one of three players to be selected to the All-Midwest Region squad and was named an NFCA All-American. Gasso has always stressed success in the classroom and 1996 was no exception as three players earned Academic All-Big 12 status.

Coach Gasso continued the trend of reaching new heights in 1997 when the team recorded the second best record in school history (55-19). The season was highlighted by two impressive 12-game winning streaks that helped the team to a second-place finish in the Big 12. For the fourth consecutive year, OU advanced to a NCAA regional. It marked the first time in school history that OU hosted the event.

Oklahoma again made its presence felt among the nation's elite, with six players earning All-Big 12 honors and four players making the All-Midwest Region team. Most became the first player in school history to earn back-to-back NFCA All-America status. Another first was achieved when two Sooners were named GTE CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in the same year.

 Based on final ranking in NFCA Coaches Top-25 Poll: Qualifying teams must be ranked in the final NFCA poll for all 10 seasons.*

The 1998 season was probably one of the best in OU softball history. However, it wasn't because of the number of wins and losses or the tournaments won by the Sooners. It was due to the fact the team featured six freshmen. Gasso led the young group to a 49-15 record, a second-place conference finish and a No. 1 seed in a NCAA Regional. Five Sooners were named to the all-conference squad and three players were named to the All-Midwest Region team.

Sophomore Lana Moran responded to being named Oklahoma's No. 1 pitcher by recording a 23-9 mark and 157 strikeouts. For her efforts, Moran was selected as an NFCA All-American. She was also named a GTE Academic All-American, making her what is believed to be only the third female athlete in OU history to accomplish both feats in the same season. The Sooners registered their share of huge victories in 1998, including a win over No. 1-ranked Arizona, and three wins over eventual national champion Fresno State.

In 1999, Gasso led OU to its sixth straight NCAA regional playoff appearance and her team continued to demonstrate that she is one of the top coaches in the country. Along the path to the regional playoffs in Baton Rouge, La., the Sooners seized several awards and honors. For the second time in the three-year history of the Big 12 Conference, OU was crowned regular season champion. The Sooners, who finished with a 40-16 overall record, won the Big 12 with an 11-3 record. Oklahoma fell just short of its goal, the Women's College World Series, but the Sooners proved once again that they were a national powerhouse. That year, OU defeated several top-25 teams including Louisiana State, Texas, Massachusetts, Oregon, Texas A&M, Missouri and Nebraska. In addition, the Sooners swept the four-game series with state rival Oklahoma State. The last victory against the Cowgirls in the regular season finale clinched the Big 12 title.

Under Gasso's direction, several players were honored for their individual achievements. Senior first baseman Lynette Velazquez became the first OU softball player to be named a first team All-American. The left-handed power hitter was also named Big 12 Conference Player of the Year. Sophomore shortstop Lisa Carey, who was named to the All-Big 12 first team, also made the All-America list as a third teamer. Left-handed pitcher Jennifer Stewart was named Big 12 Freshman of the Year and was placed on the All-Big 12 first team. Velazquez, Carey and Stewart were named to the All-Midwest Region first team, while catcher Ashli Barrett and freshman outfielder Christy Ring were named to the All-Midwest Region second team. Four Sooner players (Velazquez, Carey, Stewart and Barrett) were selected to the All-Big 12 first team and two (Ring and Deborah Hargrave) were named to the All-Big 12 second team.

Not only were Gasso's players honored for their accomplishments in 1999, but she was also recognized for her solid coaching effort. Gasso was named the 1999 Big 12 Coach of the Year, and joined her staff assistants Melyssa Panzer and Tim Walton, as the Midwest Regional Coaching Staff of the Year.

The 2000 Sooners won their third Big 12 regular season title since the league began in 1996 and hosted their first NCAA Regional since 1997. Behind an explosive offense and a dominant defense, the Sooners rolled to a 66-8 record and won their final eight games of the season to capture the first softball national championship in school history.

Four Sooners earned All-America honors, with Carey and Barrett earning first team recognition. Outfielder Erin Evans and pitcher Stewart were both third team All-Americans and Stewart was named the Most Outstanding Player of the WCWS.

The accolades rolled in as Gasso was named the Dallas Morning News Big 12 Coach of the Year. She and her staff also earned the Midwest Region Coach of the Year award and Speedline/ NFCA Division I National Coaching Staff of the Year.

Following the 2000 National Championship season, Gasso's 2001 squad continued the string of success. The 2001 team went on to match many of the accomplishments of the previous year, including a return trip to the Women's College World Series, a 50-win season and four All-America selections. The team also established its own successes by compiling a school-record 23-game win streak and the program's first Big 12 Tournament title since 1996.

In 2002, Oklahoma went 49-16 and 14-2 in the Big 12. Taking their team motto "Triple Threat" to heart, the Sooners swept their third consecutive NCAA Regional and advanced to a third straight Women's College World Series.

The 2003 squad was led by five seniors and sophomore hurler Kami Keiter. OU reached its fourth consecutive WCWS by becoming the first Sooner squad to claim a regional championship away from Norman. OU ended the season with a 47-14 record and won one game before being eliminated from the 2003 WCWS.

Five Sooners were named to the All-Big 12 Conference first team including senior Leah Gulla, who led the conference in batting average, hits and RBI. Underclassmen Keiter, Heather Scaglione and Kristin Vesely joined senior Evans on the all-conference team. The NFCA bestowed All-America honors on Keiter and Gulla, while Evans joined the duo on the Midwest All-Region Team.

The OU program reached a couple milestones during the 2003 season. The program recorded its 1,000th victory when the Sooners knocked off Bethune-Cookman in its regional opener on May 15. Justifying its nickname, the Sooners also became the first Big 12 team to reach the 100-win mark in conference play. OU beat Nebraska, 1-0, in Lincoln on March 20, 2003, to be the first squad to reach the century mark.

The 2004 season went down as one of the most memorable in Sooner history. OU battled through injuries during the entire regular season and peaked at the right time. OU, seeded second in the NCAA Region I Championship, stormed through Tucson, Ariz., knocking off No. 1 Arizona and No. 9 Louisiana-Lafayette en route to the Sooners' fifth consecutive WCWS. The Sooners entered the WCWS as the hottest hitting team in the postseason and held onto that recognition, despite being eliminated after winning their opener against Washington.

Junior catcher Scaglione was the Big 12's most feared hitter and player, which helped her garner first team Big 12, Midwest Region and All-America honors to go along with the first-ever Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year award. Christina Enea, Keiter, Mariee Mena, Norrelle Dickson and Vesely also earned conference and regional honors of their own.

Gasso's staff was recognized for a fifth time as the NFCA Midwest Region Coaching Staff of the Year, thanks to one of the most memorable postseason runs in NCAA history.

In 2005, the Sooners made their 11th straight NCAA postseason appearance under Gasso and claimed the Regional 14 Championship in front of the home crowd in Norman. Despite missing out on its sixth straight WCWS appearance after dropping a best-of-three series to Arizona in the NCAA Super Regional, the Sooners were one of the best hitting teams in program history (fourth in the nation with a .320 batting average).

The highlight of the season was OU's record 29-game winning streak that spanned 36 days and was extended during play in five different states. The Sooners outscored opponents 218-40, run-ruled 10 opponents and claimed five tourney championships during the streak.

Gasso began her softball career as a player at Long Beach State. She described herself as speedy, strong armed infielder who had an above average bat.

Gasso and her husband, Jim, reside in Norman with their youngest son, D.J (12). The couple's oldest son, J.T. (18) plays baseball at Eastern Oklahoma State University for former Oklahoma baseball player Aric Thomas.

MELYSSA LOMBARDI

ASSISTANT COACH | 10TH SEASON | OKLAHOMA, 1997

As a catcher for Oklahoma in 1995-1996, Melyssa Lombardi helped direct the Sooner pitchers to new heights. Now in her 10th season as a full-time assistant coach, Lombardi continues to guide the Sooner pitchers and catchers to even greater accomplishments.

"Melyssa was a catcher here and she had good leadership behind the plate," said head coach Patty Gasso of her assistant. "She has really good knowledge of the pitchers and handles them well. I think she doesn't get the credit she deserved in calling those games at the World Series those five years. She had a game plan, called every pitch and it was tremendous. I attribute a lot of our success on the mound and behind the plate to what she's been doing."

Drawing from her playing days as a catcher for the Sooners, Lombardi has been able to lend her valuable experiences in tutoring the Oklahoma catchers and pitchers. In nine years of instructing the Sooner battery, she has guided several players to numerous accolades including All-America, all-conference and all-region honors.

Lombardi guided catcher Heather Scaglione to two straight All-America first team honors in 2004 and 2005. The only two-time first team All-American in school history was also named the Big 12's Defensive Player of the Year in those same years. Scaglione remains the only player in Big 12 history to receive the honor twice.

In 2004 Lombardi may have had her biggest challenge since joining the OU staff. The pitching coach had to hold together a staff that was missing its No. 1 and No. 2 pitcher for a combined total of 51 games. Despite the shortage of arms, the Sooners were the third best staff (in terms of ERA) in the Big 12. Lombardi's protégé Kami Keiter turned it up another notch during the postseason when she garnered All-Big 12 Tournament and Region I Championship MVP honors.

In 2003 Lombardi guided Keiter out of the shadows of Sooner great Jennifer Stewart and into stardom. In just her second collegiate season, Keiter led the Big 12 in wins (47) and was ranked in the NCAA top-15 in two pitching categories. The Sooner pitching staff combined for an ERA of 1.40, which ranked as the 18th best in the NCAA.

In her first year on the coaching staff as a student assistant in 1997, the OU pitching staff produced one of the lowest earned run averages in school history and in the country. The staff finished with a 1.14 ERA to rank seventh in the nation. The Sooners' pitching performances continued to rank among the nation's elite in 1998 and 1999 and the Sooners' improvement culminated in 2000 with a national championship.

In the national championship season, the team registered a 1.44 ERA which was good enough for second in the Big 12 and ranked 25th nationally. The staff posted 24 shutouts and its best strikeout total in three years with 301. Lombardi helped guide the 1-2 punch of Lana Moran and Jennifer Stewart that year. Moran went 26-2 and led the Big 12 with a 1.28 ERA. Stewart was a third team All-America selection and the MVP of the Women's College World Series. Lombardi also helped catcher Ashli Barrett reach new heights as the junior was named a first team All-American.

The Glendale, Ariz., native ended her two-year playing career with the Sooners with a spectacular senior season in 1996. Her team-leading .345 batting average was a key factor during OU's Big 12 Conference Championship run that year.

She was also instrumental in helping Jill Most and Jennifer Jaime record two of the best pitching seasons in school history. Lombardi caught all three of Most's wins in OU's conference tournament games and was named to the all-tournament team after going 3-for-8 (.375) at the plate with four RBI, two runs scored, a triple and a stolen base.

Lombardi graduated from OU in 1997 with a degree in health and sports science. The former Melyssa Panzer married John Lombardi on Nov. 10, 2000, and the couple currently resides in Norman.

HOWARD DOBSON

ASSISTANT COACH | FIFTH SEASON | MCNEESE STATE, 1997

Howard Dobson enters his fifth season as an assistant coach for the Oklahoma softball program and has been instrumental in continuing with Oklahoma's national reputation as an offensive force.

Since his arrival in 2003, the Sooners have been one of the top two teams in the conference in hitting percentage and have topped the conference every season in scoring. In addition, Dobson has coached seven players to All-America honors and worked with 15 NFCA All-Midwest Region performers and 20 All-Big 12 players during his four-year stint with the OU softball program.

Last season, Dobson developed a young Sooner team into an offensive juggernaut, topping all Big 12 schools in nine different offensive categories while ranking among the top 10 in the country in batting average.

Under his direction, Dobson led Kristin Vesely (first team) and Norrelle Dickson (second team) to All-American honors as both finished among the top 10 players in the country in batting average. Dobson was instrumental in Vesely's softball career as she became OU's all-time hits leader during her senior campaign.

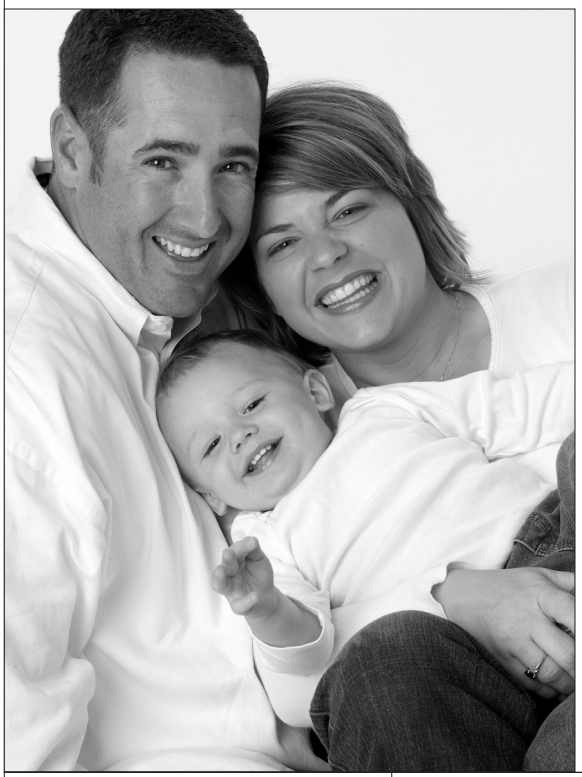
In 2005, the Sooners finished fourth in the nation in batting average with a .320 mark while leading the Big 12 in RBI (339) and hits (568). Dobson was influential in the making of 2005 All-American Vesely, one of three to earn All-America honors in 2005. She finished the 2005 season as the league's top hitter with a .451 batting average (sixth in the nation).

It was more of the same in 2004 as the Sooners were the top hitting team in the conference and Dobson helped guide Heather Scaglione to national prominence and the first of two All-America honors. Scaglione was hands-down the most feared hitter in the Big 12 while claiming seven batting titles.

His one season with 2003 graduate Leah Gulla turned the all-conference talent into a first team All-American and the Big 12's leading hitter.

Prior to Oklahoma, the Orange, Texas, native helped start up Houston's softball program in 2000. In the program's first year, Dobson helped guide the team to a fifth place finish in Conference USA. The 2002 team led the league in hits (480), runs scored (279), slugging percentage (.448), RBI (244) and home runs (47), narrowly missing the conference record of 49. During his two years at Houston, Dobson coached 10 all-conference honorees, including the 2002 Conference USA Freshman of the Year.

Dobson served as an assistant at Southeastern Louisiana for two seasons before joining the Houston staff. With his help, two Lady Lions garnered all-region accolades.



Dobson began his softball coaching career at McNeese State as a volunteer assistant coach. At McNeese State, he worked with the Southland Conference's 1999 Hitter of the Year.

He previously gained softball coaching experience as an assistant coach at Barbe High School in Louisiana where he led the team to the state 5A title and directed one of its players to Miss Softball Louisiana honors. While at Barbe, seven of his players went on to compete at the Division I level, including nationally renowned programs Louisiana State and DePaul.

Dobson has also gained valuable experience working at the collegiate skills camps during the summer and coaching on the international level. In the summer of 1999, his international team won the German Open with one of its players named tournament MVP.

A former all-conference performer at Panola Junior College, Dobson went on to finish his collegiate baseball career at McNeese State where he graduated with a degree in health and human performance and English in 1997.

Dobson and his wife, Katharine, reside in Norman. The couple had their first child, Tripp, who was born on May 17, 2005.

Clark will be responsible for the day-to-day operations off the field while serving as a liaison for athletic department staff and the Diamond Club.

"Kaycee brings a tremendous amount of enthusiasm and passion to our program," head coach Patty Gasso said. "She was that way as a player and I'm looking forward to working with her on an everyday basis again. She's going to be an excellent representative for our team and our university," Gasso said. "She's a winner and knows the expectations of this program."

Following her sophomore season at OU, Clark transferred to the University of Central Florida where she earned Atlantic Sun All-Tournament honors as a junior. DAVID BOREN

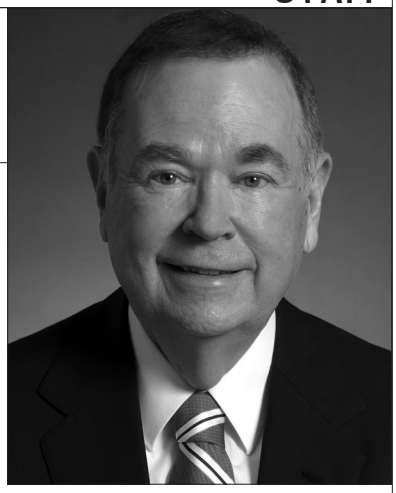
13TH PRESIDENT | UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA



David L. Boren, who has served Oklahoma as governor and U.S. senator, became the 13th president of the University of Oklahoma in November 1994. He is the first person in state history to have served in all three positions.

Boren is widely respected for his academic credentials, his longtime support of education, and for his distinguished political career as a reformer of the American political system. A graduate of Yale University in 1963, Boren majored in American history, graduated in the top one percent of his class and was elected Phi Beta Kappa. He was selected as a Rhodes Scholar and earned a master's degree in politics, philosophy and economics from Oxford University, England, in 1965.

In 1968, he received a law degree from the University of Oklahoma College of Law, where he was on the Law Review, elected to the Order of the Coif, and won the Bledsoe Prize as the outstanding graduate by a vote of the faculty.

As Oklahoma's governor from 1974 through 1978, Boren promoted key educational initiatives that have had an enduring impact on Oklahoma. Established during his tenure were: the Oklahoma Summer Arts Institute, the Scholar-Leadership Enrichment Program, and the Oklahoma Physicians Manpower Training Program, which provides scholarships for medical students and medical personnel who commit to practice in under served rural areas. Also, the first state funding for Gifted and Talented classes was provided in 1976 and, from 1976 through 1978, Oklahoma ranked first among all states in the percentage increases of funding for higher education.

One of Boren's most far-reaching projects in promoting quality education at all levels is the Oklahoma Foundation for Excellence, which he founded in 1985. The foundation recognizes outstanding public school students and teachers and helps establish private local foundations to help give academic endowment grants to local public schools. As a senator, he was the author of the National Security Education Act in 1992, which provides scholarships for study abroad and for learning additional languages, as well as legislation to restore the tax deductibility of gifts of appreciated property to universities in 1993.

Boren, also a former state legislator, spent nearly three decades in elective politics before becoming the president of the University of Oklahoma. Boren was the youngest governor in the nation when he served from 1974 to 1978. Known as a reformer, Boren campaigned with a broom as his symbol. During his term, he instituted many progressive programs, including conflict-of-interest rules, campaign-financing disclosure, stronger open meeting laws for public bodies, and more competitive bidding on state government contracts.

During his time in the U.S. Senate -- from 1979 to 1994 -- Boren served on the Senate Finance and Agriculture Committees and was the longest-serving chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. From his days as a state legislator and governor of Oklahoma to Washington, Boren carried a commitment to reform, leading numerous efforts to make government work better for American citizens. As chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, he strengthened oversight of secret government programs and reformed the procedures for Presidential notice of such programs to Congress.

For more than 10 years, he led the fight for congressional campaign finance reform and for legislation discouraging administration and congressional staff from cashing in on government experience and contacts by becoming lobbyists. In addition, he introduced legislation seeking to limit gifts and travel subsidies that government workers, including members of Congress, can receive from lobbyists. Boren also chaired the special 1992-93 Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress, which produced proposals to make Congress more efficient and responsive by streamlining congressional bureaucracy, reducing staff sizes and reforming procedures to end legislative gridlock.

Boren left the U.S. Senate in 1994 with an approval rating of 9l percent after being re-elected with 83 percent of the vote in 1990, the highest percentage in the nation in a U.S. Senate contest in that election year.

Boren served from 1988 to 1997 as a member of the Yale University Board of Trustees. His university experience also includes four years on the faculty of Oklahoma Baptist University, where he was chairman of the Department of Political Science and chairman of the Division of Social Sciences. In 1993, the American Association of University Professors presented Boren with the Henry Yost Award as Education Advocate of the Year.

In April 2004, Boren received the Mory's Cup from the Mory's Association at Yale University. In making the presentation to Boren it was noted that he was the first Yale graduate in the university's history extending over three centuries to have served as a Governor, U.S. Senator and President of a major university.

Under Boren's leadership, the University of Oklahoma has developed and emerged as a "pacesetter university in American public higher education," with 20 major new programs initiated since his inauguration. They include establishment of the Honors College, the Charles M. Russell Center for the Study of Art of the American West, a new expository writing program for freshmen modeled on the program at Harvard, an interdisciplinary religious studies program, the Artist-in-Residence Program, the International Programs Center, and the Faculty-in-Residence Program putting faculty family apartments in student residence halls. The Retired Professors Program has been started, bringing 50 retired full professors back to the University to teach freshmen.

The number of new facilities started or completed on the campus during the Boren years has matched the explosion in new programs. Since 1994, almost $1 billion in construction projects have been completed or are under way on OU's three campuses. Among the largest of the current projects are the $18.7 million renovation and expansion of historic Holmberg Hall, home of music and dance programs; the $67 million National Weather Center; the $19 million addition to the Michael F. Price College of Business; the $17 million Gaylord Hall for journalism and mass communication; the $27 million Stephenson Research and Technology Center; and the $83.5 million stadium project. The Health Sciences Center has a new Student Union, and the new $24 million Stanton L. Young Biomedical Research Center.

Presidential Travel Scholarships, students from 111 countries on campus, more reciprocal international exchange agreements than any other university and the new International Programs Center are all making OU more international. The new Honors College helps to assure that no students need to leave Oklahoma to find an educational experience to match their potential.

In 1995, Boren launched the Reach for Excellence fundraising campaign with a five-year goal of $200 million, which was twice as large as any fundraising drive in Oklahoma history. The drive exceeded $500 million, raising OU into the top 15 public universities in the United States in private endowment per capita. Since 1994, endowed professorships have tripled and the OU donor base has grown from 18,000 to more than 98,000 friends and alumni. During the first 10 years of Boren's tenure over $1 billion in private gifts were donated to the university.

Above all, the Boren years have been marked by an emphasis on putting students first. There is not a university president in the country who is more committed to students as his number one priority. He teaches a freshman-level course in political science each semester and is one of the few presidents of major universities to teach.

Boren is married to Molly Shi Boren, a former judge and English teacher. Molly Boren has two degrees from the University of Oklahoma, a master's degree in English and a Juris Doctor degree from the OU College of Law. A native of Seminole, Boren has two children, Carrie Christine Boren, an Episcopal minister, and David Daniel Boren, a member of the United States Congress from Oklahoma. Devoting much of his life to public service, Boren drew from the example of his parents, the late Congressman Lyle H. Boren and Christine Boren.

JOE CASTIGLIONE

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS | UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA

In eight years, Joe Castiglione has established a pattern of excellence that few in his profession can match. While Castiglione would quickly point out that the credit belongs to the student-athletes and coaches, the staff and the university administration, the donors and the fans, someone had to make the first step, to take the lead. Following the slogan "Inspiring champions today … Preparing leaders for tomorrow," Castiglione has authored one of the most successful athletics eras ever witnessed at OU, one that includes an expansion of facilities that is unmatched in Sooner history.

His peers have recognized his success at OU. In October 2004, he was named Athletics Director of the Year by the Bobby Dodd Foundation. In 2003, he was inducted into the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators Hall of Fame. In June 2001, he received the General Robert R. Neyland Athletic Director Award for lifetime achievement from the All-American Football Foundation. In 2000, he was named the Central Region AD of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA).

The 11th director of athletics at the University of Oklahoma has celebrated six national team championships and numerous conference team titles; record numbers of graduating student-athletes and record-setting grade point averages for Sooner teams; dramatically increased donor giving; huge increases in ticket sales for all sports; major facility improvements, and development and construction of new facilities. And, as aggressive as the push to improve, expand and excel has been, he has produced a balanced budget in every year of his tenure, a first since the early 1980s.

Other highlights of Castiglione's tenure include:

• Six consecutive years among the top 25 in the standings for the Director's Cup which measures overall athletics success, including an all-time program best of 15th in 2003-2004.

• Twenty OU teams have ranked among the top 10 in season-ending polls.

• A school-record and Big 12 best graduation rate of 74% in 2003.

• Three appearances in the BCS National Championship Game and the college football national championship in 2000.

• Appearances by the men's and women's basketball teams in their respective Final Fours in 2002.

• A Division I record of 74 combined victories produced by the football team and both basketball squads in the 2001-02 school year.

• An average of more than 17 OU teams per year represented in postseason play.

Credited with energizing OU's fund-raising efforts, Castiglione was instrumental in the athletics department's major campaign, Great Expectations: The Campaign For Sooner Sports. The campaign ended in November of 2003 with more than $125 million raised or pledged. Unique in its approach, the largest fund-raising effort in OU athletics history included projects that impact each of OU's nearly 500 student-athletes and has become a national model for intercollegiate athletics.

Castiglione has cultivated numerous million dollar gifts, including the largest capital gifts in history for athletics at OU, and some of the largest ever for the university as a whole. He has driven dramatic facilities projects, including a $70 million project at Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium. Others include a $17.2 million renovation of Lloyd Noble Center; phase I of The Headington Family Tennis Complex; John Jacobs Field; the Everest Training Facility, one of the largest indoor practice areas in the country; and Phase II of the soccer-tennis complex. Other projects completed in his tenure have included the redesign of the Sooner football practice fields; the Port Robertson Wrestling Facility; phase I of the Sooner Soccer Complex and John Crain Field as well as additional renovations to the McCasland Field House; L. Dale Mitchell Park, the Charlie Coe Golf Learning Center, the OU Softball Complex and Barry Switzer Center. His administrative work, which has seen significant reorganization and the hiring of nine head coaches, also included the negotiation of multi-million dollar multi-media rights contract that produces more than $5 million in annual revenue for the athletics department.

Castiglione was hired on April 30, 1998, after serving as athletics director at Missouri. In his 18-year career with the Tigers, Castiglione, who was named director of athletics at Missouri on Dec. 15, 1993, was credited with rebuilding sports programs, hiring outstanding coaches, devising a master plan for facilities, inspiring record-setting increases in fund-raising and balancing the budget in each of his five years as athletics director.

A 1979 Maryland graduate, Castiglione began his career as the sports promotions director at Rice. He then worked a year as director of athletic fund-raising at Georgetown before being hired in 1981 at Missouri as director of communications and marketing.

Active on the national and conference level, he is currently serving on the Board of Directors for the Collegiate Women Sports Awards, the Gatorade Collegiate Advisory Board, and the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame. Recently, he was named to the executive committee of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame. He served two terms as chair of the Big 12 Board of Athletics Directors and is a past president of the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and NACDA. He served a four-year term on the NCAA Championship/Competition Cabinet and the NCAA Baseball Committee and is a past member of the NCAA Football Special Events Certification Committee. He recently agreed to serve on the NCAA Diversity Leadership Strategic Planning Committee and the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Discussion Group.

A native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Castiglione was born Oct. 8, 1957. He is married to the former Kristen Bartel, a 1990 graduate of the University of Missouri. They are the parents of two sons, Joseph Robert, Jr., born on December 20, 1996, and Jonathan Edmund, born on March 21, 2000.

REVIEW

Oklahoma Softball

13 STRAIGHT 40-WIN SEASONS

For the 13th straight year, the Oklahoma softball team notched a 40-win season after posting an overall mark of 40-21-1, including an 8-10 record in Big 12 play. The young Sooner squad made a strong postseason run, winning 12 of its final 15 contests to finish second in the Big 12 Championship and advance to the NCAA Regional finals for the seventh consecutive year.

Despite a team with only two seniors, the Sooners were an offensive juggernaut, topping all Big 12 schools in nine different offensive categories while ranking among the top 10 in the country in batting average. The Sooner defense was also solid, setting a school record with 24 double plays turned in 2006.

Individually, junior Norrelle Dickson and senior Kristin Vesely highlighted the Sooners' offense. Vesely represented the Sooners on the NFCA All-America first team after batting .440 with 49 RBI and 123 total bases. The four-time All-Big 12 performer and two-time All-American finished her career as the all-time hits leader in OU history.

Dickson collected her second All-America honor after being named a second team All-American in 2006. OU's leadoff batter claimed the Big 12 batting title (.449 avg) and topped all other Big 12 players in runs scored, hits and on base percentage. Additionally, Vesely and Dickson finished in the top 10 in the NCAA in batting average.

ALL-AMERICANS

Kristin Vesely and Norrelle Dickson were named to the 2006 Louisville Slugger/NFCA Division I All-America teams. Vesely earned first team honors as an at-large selection while Dickson claimed second team honors as an outfielder. It marked the second straight All-America honor for both.

One of the most impressive hitters in OU softball history, Vesely finished her tenure at OU as the all-time leader in hits at Oklahoma. Additionally, she finished among the top 10 on 10 different OU career charts and was one of 25 finalists for the USA Softball Player of the Year award. The four-time All-Big 12 performer ranked second in the Big 12 and ninth among the NCAA in batting average.

Dickson picked up her second straight All-America honor (a 2005 third-team selection) after leading the Sooners' offensive attack in 2006. The junior recorded a Big 12-best .449 batting average (sixth in the NCAA) while also leading the conference in hits (1.50 per game), runs scored (1.06 per game) and on base percentage (.515).

FOUR SOONERS NAMED ALL-MIDWEST REGION

Four players on the Oklahoma softball team were named to the National Fastpitch Coaches Midwest All-Region team. Garnering first team acclaim were junior left fielder Norrelle Dickson, freshman designated player Samantha Ricketts and senior center fielder Kristin Vesely. Earning second team honors for the Sooners was sophomore infielder Savannah Long. All-time ,OU has collected 62 All-Midwest Region honors.

DICKSON & USA CAPTURE WORLD GAMES TITLE

Norrelle Dickson was selected as one of 17 collegiate players representing the United States on the 2006 World University Games roster this past July in Taiwan.

Dickson and the USA World University squad earned their second straight World Championship title after defeating the Chinese Taipei, 4-3, in extra innings to nab the crown.

Dickson is no stranger to the USA scene as she was a member of the 2003 USA Softball National Elite Team and a player on the 2004 USA Elite Team that the won the inaugural World University Softball Championship in 2004.

VESELY NAMED CAREER HITS LEADER

With her 3-for-4 outing against Kent State in the NCAA Regional, senior Kristin Vesely became the career hits leader at the University of Oklahoma. In her four-year career at OU, the two-time All-American finished with 293 career hits and also owns the top mark in career at bats (798). The previous record of 289 was held by All-American Lisa Carey (1998-01).

Ironically, senior-to-be Norrelle Dickson, also a two-time All-American, is on pace to break Vesely's record in 2007. Dickson owns 241 career hits in her three-year tenure after recording 93 hits in 2006.

TOP-25

The Sooners remained in both top 25 polls all season long. OU finished 2006 with a No. 17 ranking in the ESPN.com/USA Softball poll and a No. 18 ranking in the USA Today/NFCA poll. Oklahoma has been ranked in the top 25 of every NFCA poll since its inception, which spans 155 weeks. OU and Arizona, the 2006 National Champions, are the only programs to be ranked in the NFCA Top-25 every week of its existence.

ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICAN LANA MORAN

Oklahoma pitcher Lana Moran took the term "student-athlete" to new heights with her 2000 Academic All-American of the Year recognition.

The lone senior on the 2000 team that won OU's first softball national championship, Moran captained the team as she tallied a 26-2 mark with five shutouts. Her 1.28 ERA led the Big 12 Conference.

Moran's biggest achievement came in the classroom where the San Bernardino, Calif., native compiled a 3.88 grade point average in sociology. She was named Academic All-Big 12 in each of her four seasons.

Moran was a two-time GTE first team Academic All-American. In 2000, she became the first Sooner in any sport to be named Academic All-American of the Year.

DIAMOND CLUB

DEAR SOONER FANS,

The time has arrived to start thinking about Sooner Softball 2007. We are excited about the upcoming season and have worked diligently in the fall preparing for another run at the National Championship.

Our team returns an All-American, four Midwest Region selections, five All-Big 12 members, 15 letterwinners and a much improved offense. With the addition of a very talented freshman class, this team has the ingredients to compete for the Big 12 and National Championship.

We have great expectations in 2007, the largest being a sixth trip to the Women's College World Series and a chance to bring another National Championship to the University of Oklahoma. By purchasing a season ticket, you will join us in our journey. It is very important to have that "home field advantage" at the Marita Hynes Field. Your support in the stands is vital to our success. We have 28 home games on the schedule with top quality competition. You won't want to miss it!

Sooner Softball is a great value for you and your family! We can't wait for the season to start and would like for you to be there to experience the excitement with us!

See you in the stands!

Patty Gasso
